

CYCLE

Cats
swallow
barley
corns
hollowed
out
from within
by
busy
weevil
kin (bent
on raising
more
young
weevils
to devour
more
nice
barley
corns)
chewed
up
without
salt
by
mice
thinking
them
not
empty
shells
but
solid
food
for
building

juicy
sweet
mouse
meat
which
when
all's
done
hungry
cats
may
eat
where
if
and
when
cats
eat
barley
corns
hollowed
out
from
within
by
busy
weevil
kin (bent
on
raising
more
young
weevils
to
devour
more
nice
barley
corns)
chewed
up

without
salt
by
mice.

--John
Moffitt